Thirty-Seventh Leeds Symposium on Food History and Traditions

Saturday 20 May 2023
Friends' Meeting House,
Friargate, York YO1 9RL

Celebrations

9.45am Registration and coffee

10.30am After the welcome and introduction to this year's symposium, which focuses on celebrations of events of national significance, the morning session will begin with Marc Meltonville who will consider what sort of celebrations might have taken place at Stonehenge. Ivan Day will then look at a number of English coronation feasts over the years.

12.00 pm – 1.20pm Lunch

If you wish to participate in the communal lunch, please bring one item of food, home-made if possible, to serve 2-3 people, table-ready and labelled. Bread will be provided. Please indicate whether you intend to bring a savoury, sweet or salad for the lunch.

1.20pm In the afternoon the focus will turn to regional and local celebrations of national events, beginning with Peter Brears who will look at civic feasts in Yorkshire. Sarah Maultby will then turn to community celebrations of Royal jubilees and coronations, and finally Sue Bailey will show how town and gown came together in Cambridge to celebrate Queen Victoria's coronation.

4.00pm The symposium will conclude with tea and celebratory buns.

Please note that no recording or photography is permitted during the talks without prior permission from the speaker.
